

Making sense of the 10 Large pipits

The classification scheme below uses behavioural, morphological and vocal evidence to divide southern Africa's 10 problematic 'Large pipits' into 5 groups (indicated by circled numbers). Follow the bold line: circles indicate a split in the lineage; arrows indicate the character state shared by all the remaining species.

